

Frios Gourmet Pops is committed to protecting the privacy and accuracy of confidential information to the extent possible, subject to provisions of state and federal law. Other than as required by laws that guarantee public access to certain types of information, or in response to subpoenas or other legal instruments that authorize access, personal information is not actively shared. In particular, we do not re-distribute or sell personal information collected on our web servers.

Franchising with Frios Gourmet Pops privacy policy:

The following privacy policy discloses the privacy practices for www.friosfranchise.com. This privacy policy applies solely to the information collected by this web site only. The following will be outlined in this policy:

- What personally identifiable information is collected from you by our website, how it is used and with whom it may be shared.
- What options are available to you regarding the use of your data.
- The security measures in place to protect the misuse of your information.
- How to correct any inaccuracies in the information, if any.

Information Collection, Use, and Sharing

Frios Gourmet Pops is the sole owner of the information collected on this site. We only have access to/collect information that you have voluntarily given to us via email or by completing our registration form on this site. Your information will not be sold, rented, or shared with anyone.

To show interest in franchising with Frios, visitors are required to fill out a “contact form” giving certain information including name and email address. This information is used purely to respond to you regarding the reason for contacting us. Your information will not be shared with anyone outside of our organization, other than as necessary to fulfill a request such as shipping an order.

In the future, we may contact you via email to tell you about new products or services, specials, or changes to this policy.

Information Access and Control

You may choose to opt-out of any future communications from us at any time. You may also do any of the following at any time by contacting us via the email address or phone number provided on our website:

- Request to see what data we have about you, if any.
- Change/correct/update any data we have about you.
- Request the termination of any data we have about you.
- Express any concern regarding our use of your data.

Security

We have a set of precautionary measures that ensure the protection of your information. After you submit your information via our website, it is protected both online and offline.

Wherever sensitive information is collected, that information is encrypted and transmitted to us in a secure manner. This can easily be verified by finding the closed lock icon in your browser address bar, or by confirming “https” precedes our web address.

Your information is also protected offline. Only authorized users or employees who need the information in order to perform a specific function such as billing or customer service have access to personally identifiable information. All company computers/servers in which personally identifiable information is stored are housed in a secure location as well.

Cookies

This site uses “cookies”. A cookie is a piece of data stored on your hard drive when you visit a website. This helps us improve your access to our site and helps us identify repeat visitors to our site. Cookies also help us track and target the interests of prospective users to enhance those user’s experiences on our website. The usage of cookies is in no way linked to any personally identifiable information entered on the contact form of our website.

Updates

Our Privacy Policy may be updated periodically and the most up-to-date version will always be available to you here.

If you feel we are not abiding by our Privacy Policy, do not hesitate to contact us immediately by phone (251) 307-1170 or email franchising@friospops.com.
